

SHAMANIC RETREATS

ON SACRED ANAZASI LAND: HÓZHÓNII, ARIZONA

TAWA CHACANA EARTH CEREMONY

MARCH 22-25, 2007 • $550

The Chacana, or Inca Cross, is a powerful symbol of the ancient cultures of the Andes and is considered the Incas' most complete sacred geometrical design. It is often seen at ancient sites and sacred centers throughout the Andes.

During this retreat, we will explore the deep cosmology of the Tawa Chacana, an ancient symbol that relates to wholeness, and its multi-faceted meanings: the three Worlds; the three Spirit Animals; the Twelve Steps of Initiation; the Four Directions of the Universe; the Four Seasons; and the Four Elements. It functions like a labyrinth to create balance as the soul seeks to restore and maintain equilibrium within its male/female aspects.

Using ceremony and ritual, we will build a chacana that represents a journey to our own center and back again out into the world.

VISION QUEST: A JOURNEY TO THE SELF

MAY 24-27, 2007 • $550

This solitary retreat in nature is for the purpose of receiving spiritual guidance. In tribal customs, it was a time to receive divine guidance. In our modern era, when so many feel disconnected from their source and alienated from their spirituality, this quest can be a powerful way to reconnect with both.

Here, you will leave behind demands of everyday life, explore your intuitive senses, learn to listen to your inner voice, and then be alone in nature, opening the way for transformative healing.

You will receive instruction in meditative and intuitive techniques, based on shamanic practice, allowing you to easily become receptive to inner guidance. You will learn tools and develop skills to connect with spirit; clear old wounds/blocks; and identify your purpose and role in the universal scheme.

FACILITATED BY LIANA CARBÓN AND KATINA O'NEIL

All retreats are held at Hózhónii, 160 acres of sacred land near the Navajo New Lands in northern Arizona. Easily accessible from Phoenix, Albuquerque or Flagstaff, Hózhónii is a high desert place of beauty and transformation. Most of the retreat activities will be held in a traditional Navajo ceremonial hogan, and personal work will be held outdoors in nature.
